VENTOZELA ALVARINHO

Casal De Ventozela produces one of our most popular Vinho Verdes out of the native Arinto grape variety. Its Alvarinho (Albariño in Spain) is extremely fresh with flavours of citrus and apple. Complexity and depth are added by ageing in oak barrels and time spent on its lees. This is great with any seafood, especially if cooked with a touch of chili.

Nebbiolo Volpi

Nestled in the rolling hills of Piedmont, the family estate of Cantine Volpi has been making wine for more than a century and today owns 20 hectares. The Langhe region is known for producing light, more approachable styles of Nebbiolo, and they're often great value, too. Fresh and elegant, expect flavours of violet, rose, and red berries, layered with subtle spices and wild herbs. Enjoy with tomato-based pasta, grilled meats and cheeses.
